A Sensational Incident in Their Investigation.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAMS.

They Are Handed Over to the Grand Jury

Chicago, June 19.—The sensational incident of the Cronin grand jury yesterday was the refusal of William E Bell, of the Western Union Telegraph company, to obey an order of the jury to produce messages passing between Alexan lei Sullivan, Dan. Coughlin, P. O Sullivan, John J. Maroney and G.

Mr. Bell maintained that it was against the rule of the company to produced such messages and that the statutes of the state of Illinois imposed a fine of $ 0.000 upon a telegraph company for disclosing the contents of any personal or business message passing over its lines. After all attempts to induce the witness to obey had failed, the jury, headed by State's Attorney Longeneeler, repaired to Judge Shephard's 100m, and appealed to his honor to issue

The latter, however, after lookpresent request being more in the mature of a general drag net.

State's Attorney Longenecker held that the jury could not definitely describe any particular messages, because they were not yet acquainted with the contents of the messages sout. What the jury desired was the right to examine any and all messages that might have passed between any of the suspected parties since March 1.

The jury alone could be the judge of their relevancy to the case. Mr. Role objected somewhat to an order of such sweeping nature, but the judge fully remay(sania votes) and early. Bishop, of Oregon, at the Klamath agency in Oregon; Samuel L. Patrick, of Kansas, at the Sac and Fox agency in the Indian Territory; Horatio N. Rust, of California, at the Mission Tuli river—consolidated—agency in California, embracing Hoopa valley.

The president has also appointed C. K. Higgins postmaster at Fort Wayne, Indiana.

An Oblo Man Talks Politics. Washington, June 19.—Representative Williams, of Ohio, in an interview said. "The thing that is now occupying the attention of the folks in Ohio is the governorship There is no doubt in the world that Foraker will be renominated. It is known new that he will accept the nomination, and that practically settles the matter. He could, if he wanted, be the successor to Senator Payne, but he is not after that."

That Much Talked of Postofice. Washington, June 19 - It is stated at the postoffice department that Mrs. Isawill De La Hunt, who was said to have been an applicant for the position of postmuster at Cannelton, Ind., the place to which John Zimmerman was appoint-od, has published a card in the Indiana papers denying that such was the case. This is the bady about whom President Harrison, when senator, made a speech, charging President Cleveland with turning out of office the widow of a union soldier.

The Report Not True.

Washington, June 19 -The adjutant general has received assurances from Gen. Miles, at San Francisco, that the published report about killing of Mexicans by Indians in Sonora, 300 miles south of the international line, is unbrue. Gen. Miles received his information from the commanding officer of the department of Arizona, to whom Gov-ernor Torres, who made a full investigation of the rumor, submitted a report.

Captain Meredith Satisfied. Washington, June 19 .-- Capt. Mercdith, of Chango, had an interview with Secretary Windom yesterday about his candidacy for the position of chief of the bureau of engraving and printing. The interview was satisfactory to Capt Merodith, and it is understood his ap pointment will be made this week.

Attorney General's Appointments. Washington, June 19.—The attorney general has appointed Marshall L. Mott assistant United States attorney at Columbus, O., and Jason Firestone, assistant United States attorney for North Carolina.

Causes Considerable Comment. CHARLESTON, S. C., June 18 .- The announcement that President Harrison intends to appoint Rev. R. W. Menninger as postmaster of this city causes much comment. Mr. Menninger is a son of C. G. Menninger, who was the secretary of treasury of the Confederacy, He is in entire accord with the president's southern policy, but in favor of getting the negro out of politics and solidifying the white race. Mr. Men-ninger is assistant rector of Grace Epis-copal church, of this city, and is the author of a series of articles on the ne gro problem in the south.

old as the history of man. Its mode of expression varied as the manners and customs of the races. The ancients made known their wants through the crier. His origin is lost in myth, When Psyche absconded Venus requested Mercury "to proclaim her in publie and announce a reward to him who shall find her." The divine erier is enjoined to clearly describe the marks by which Psyche may be recognized, that no one may excuse himself on the plea of ignorance if he incurs the crime of unlawfully concealing her." The finder is to be rewarded by seven sweet

Advertiser and editor apeak in the first person. With unblushing candor men and women advertise for conjugal partners, and their manner of expressing their wants in many instances outwit the realism of Zola or Edgar Saltus. Matrimonial advertisement is of ancient origin. Herodotus speaks of the Babylonian wife auctions, at which husbands many roman ware auctions, as which ausbands were found for all young women. The price brought by the beauty was given as a dowry to her plainer sister. Women without beauty were given away? Would not advanced civilization put a higher price on dowerse

"Advertising," says De Tocqueville, "drops the same thought into a thousand minds at almost the same period." This truism Houghton, the father of English advertising, who flourished in the latter part of the Seventeenth century, endeavored to impress upon his countrymen. With untiring perseverance he trained his contemporaries in the art of inculcating the fact.

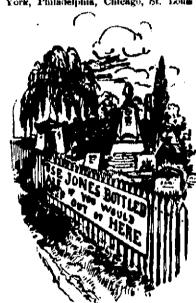

The introduction of the daily paper in 1702, The Tattler (1709) and The Spectator (1711) gave immense stimulus to advertising. In the folios of the latter classics are preserved advertisements rich in the wit or humor of Steele or Addison. These famous men of leters were wont to advertise for subjects on which to yent their wit. Witness the folowing from The Tattler: "Any ladies who lowing from the latter: "Any manes who have any particular stories of their acquaintances which they are willing privately to make public, may send them by penny post to lease Bicher Staff, Esq., inclosed to Mr. John Murphew, near Stationer's hall." What an outlet for the lover of scandal! We fancy we hear the laughter of that "rake among cholars, and scholar among rakes," as be pored over the replies each rival brought to The Taitler sanctum! Steele found in them the groundwork of many of his eleverest

The theory of advertising now began to dicit essays and letters-some humorous, emigrants brought to the New World the advertising methods of their respective countries. The first American news paper was established in Boston in 1701. Colonial merchants were not slew to seek the press as a medium of trade. An English paper, speaking in 1795 of the transationtic journalism of the time, says: "As one proof of the commerce and trade of America there New York, and it is not uncommon to enumerate 350 advertisements in a single paper. But they do not know. How can they know, when so many not only worthless but positively injurious drugs are con stantly flooding the market under ous names guises, that the New Style Vinegar Bitters is as bad as any of them? They do not know, of course, unless they have the courage to try the New Style. It straightens out a tangled-up system in a very short while, and those who hay it once buy it always.

Why don't you try it, reader? It is sent out by a responsible house, and is exactly as represented. It costs but dollar for a very large bottle. Try once and you will never be so glad o you. Be sure it says New Style Pleas ant Taste on carton and bottle befor you take it. Try it, and you will fee happier than if you had found a gold mine, for it really is a mine—of health. Free from alcohol, and opium: com posed of expensive berbs and roots, with a fine, delicate flavoring.

The Hebrews cried their wares on the treets of ancient Jerusalem. The Greeks, in obedience to the oratorical instinct, employed musicians to give the pitch to the criers who announced the gladitorial games and public fostivals. God is good The poor old creature failed in her plous it was thought vanity prompted has long since fallen from his high estate, he thrives to some purpose in many modern countries. In England and America the auctioneer preserves many of the salient charac-teristics of this ancient progenitor. With the invention of writing, wax tablets bills and signhoards were introduced. The Greeks and Romans wrote on tablets on their walls, as Pompeiian and Herculanean excava-tions disclose. These advertisements are the historian's best clew to the daily lives of the inhabitants of these lost cities. In most advertisements we approach Cowper's idea of seeing life, "through the loopholes of retreat," so faithfully do they reflect the man ners and customs of a people. On the outer walls of the Roman houses were whitenes. spaces for the inscription of their affairs. They were solicitous that their bills and signboards should be placed where they would attract most attention. Their favorite place was the amphitheatre or the baths where the people were wont to tarry. Through the old poets and dramatists we learn of advertise-their manuscripts or dispersed prospectues The printing press, and its offspring, the newspaper, gave immense impetus to adver-tising. To France is accredited the honor of first attaining a regular and consecutive business of newspaper advertising. The Journal des Petites Affaires—a journal devoted to the domestic wants of France—enjoys two and a half centuries of uninter rupted prosperity. The newspaper, as a news or advertising medium, made slow progress
